Christina Eubanks-Turner*, 1 LMU Drive, University Hall, Suite 2714, Los Angeles, CA 90045, and Anna Bargagliotti. Loyola Marymount University's Masters of Arts in Teaching Mathematics Program.

In this presentation we will give details about Loyola Marymount University's MA in Teaching Mathematics program. The Master of Arts in Teaching Mathematics program provides an opportunity for secondary school teachers to broaden their background in mathematical science and to correlate this knowledge with current education practice. We will also discuss elements of recruitment, curriculum design and program structure. (Received September 13, 2015)
