Thomas R Hagedorn* (hagedorn@tcnj.edu) and Monisha Pulimood. Mentoring Students through Computational Science Research Projects: Report on the iPics S-STEM grant program. Preliminary report.

The Departments of Mathematics and Statistics, and Computer Science at The College of New Jersey are in the fifth year of a NSF S-STEM scholarship grant. Our program recruits and supports mathematics and computer science majors with economic need through a combination of computational science projects, advising, and community building activities. The poster will report on our results to date. (Received September 17, 2018)
